

ATTENDANCE IS FREE AND OPEN TO THE PUBLIC

International Workshop
Writing the War in Asia
1937-45

Wednesday
16 October 2013
Y 311

Programme

Organization:

Daniel Schumacher
Department of History and Sociology
University of Konstanz
daniel.schumacher@uni-konstanz.de

Funded by:

DFG Deutsche
Forschungsgemeinschaft

KONSTANZ/ESSEX
DEVELOPMENT FUND

Universität
Konstanz

09:00 – 09:30
Introduction

Mark R. Frost (Essex), Daniel Schumacher (Konstanz)
Welcome address

09:30 – 10:30
Panel A: Wartime Migrations

Vivienne Guo Xiangwei (King's College London)
From Shanghai to Wuhan: Chinese Intellectual Women's Migration and Unification in World War II

Maria Framke (ETH Zürich)
*"And One Did Not Come Back": Political Humanitarianism
 in the Late Colonial India and Its Memory Until Today*

10:30 – 11:00
Coffee Break

11:00 – 12:00
Panel B: Reporting on Resistance

Rebecca Kenneison (Essex)
John Creer's Report: The Guomindang Guerrillas of Japanese-occupied Malaya

Takuma W. Melber (Mainz)
*"We Must Be Better Prepared After This War":
 The Greater East Asia War Diary of Major-General
 Kawamura Saburō*

12:15 – 13:15
Panel C: The Complexities of Collaboration

Priscilla Roberts (University of Hong Kong)
The Complexities of Collaboration: The Case of Claro M. Recto

Sven Matthiessen (Heidelberg)
The KALIBAPI-Party and Japanese Pan-Asianism in the Philippines, 1942-45

13:15 – 14:15
Lunch

14:15 – 15:15
Panel D: Homefront Propaganda & War Memory

Daniel Hedinger (LMU München)
A New Global Axis? The Anti-Comintern Pact in Japanese Medias 1936/7

Hamzah Muzaini (Wageningen UR)
Sybil's Clinic @ Papan: Remembering a Malaysian War Heroine

16:00 – 20:00
Round-table and conference dinner

